THE FORTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT.

In submitting the 41st Annual Report of the Nottingham and Notts. Throat, Ear, and Nose Hospital for 1927, the Managers are pleased to record continued progress, usefulness, and appreciation of the Institution.

It will be noted that the number of new patients to receive treatment was 2139 and attendances the unprecedented number of 6955.

Six hundred and seventy four operations were satisfactorily performed under complete Anæsthesia, whilst a large number were also performed under local Anæsthesia.

The subscriptions have increased to £450 0s. 6d., but the Managers feel that if their beneficent work was more widely known, they would receive more generous responses to their appeal for funds.

In 1925 the present premises were purchased for £1,800. £1,300 of which is on mortgage at 5%.

There are 13 beds for use of patients temporarily requiring them after operations, and the average number of out-patients treated at the Hospital was 57 per day, or 171 per week. There are 164 patients now waiting for admission. Those familiar with the Hospital will realise that the accommodation for this is altogether inadequate. To meet the ever-growing demand, extensive extensions are absolutely essential, or removal to larger premises.

After much anxious and careful thought to the whole subject, the Managers requested their co-manager, Mr. T. Cecil Howitt, A.R.I.B.A., to prepare and submit plans and estimates for an out-patients department on a site in front of the present Building. This has been done, and in such a manner that if at any future time it should be necessary, the new buildings could be converted into shops, whilst it will provide suitable waiting, operating and dark rooms, dispensary, cloakrooms, etc., also eight additional In-patients per week in the main building. The estimated cost, including furnishing, is £1,600, towards which sum they now have about £600, and therefore most respectfully and urgently make an appeal for the balance of £1,000 required.

In conclusion, the Managers wish to express their great appreciation of the kindly interest, voluntary and efficient services of the Honorary Surgeons, Drs. J. P. Gray, F. W. Wesley, and G. H. Manfield, who have each attended more than 100 times during the year, sometimes each visit occupying from one to three hours out of their busy life. Also they extend their thanks to Sister Watson and her Staff for their unselfish devotion to duty night and day, by which they have won the esteem, goodwill and affection of the patients.

ARTHUR B. GIBSON.

Appeal on behalf of the

NOTTINGHAM & NOTTINGHAMSHIRE
HOSPITAL FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT, EAR and NOSE.

Owing to the altogether inadequate accommodation for out-patients, and to enable the Hospital to maintain its high standard of efficiency, the Managers of the Hospital have been compelled to give instructions for a new Out-Patients' Wing to be built in front of the Hospital in Goldsmith Street, Nottingham. From the Report you will note that the cost of these new premises is estimated at £1,600, of which amount the sum of £1,000 must be raised by donations or voluntary subscriptions.

The Report shows that 6,955 patients have received treatment during the year 1927, a wonderful annual record of service. 164 Patients are waiting for admission.

Help is urgently needed. Will you please send a contribution to the Building Fund.

ROBT. A. PAGE,
Hon. Secretary and Treasurer.
